TRANSCRIPT OF HEARING PROCEEDINGS ON PETITIONS FOR UNITED

BEFORE THE HONORABLE KELLY H. RANKIN CHIEF UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

APPEARANCES:

For the United States: Office of the United States Attorney
District of Wyoming
BY: JASMINE PETERS
Assistant United States Attorney
2120 Capitol Avenue, Fourth Floor
Cheyenne, WY 82001

1 (Proceedings commenced 10:03 a.m., November 13, 2025.)

2 (Call to order of the Court.)

3 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Well, good morning. Earlier this 4 week we celebrated Veterans Day, so it is only fitting, I 5 think, that we honor the brave men and women of our armed 6 forces, so please join me in a moment of silence as we honor 7 their service to our country.

8 (Moment of silence.)

9 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Thank you.

10 And while we're still on our feet, I understand we're 11 joined by the Central High School Junior ROTC to present the 12 colors.

13 Please do so at this time.

14 (Presentation of colors.)

15 (Star-Spangled Banner.)

16 THE COURT: Please be seated.

17 Well, good morning, everyone, and welcome to this 18 naturalization ceremony. A special warm welcome to our new 19 citizens-to-be and their family and friends and others that are 20 here to observe this wonderful celebration.

21 Thank you to Central High School for your rendition of 22 the National Anthem. We understand we will hear from you 23 again, but thank you for your presence, and the Central High 24 School Junior ROTC.

25 Normally we have a rule that prohibits photography and

1 video of any kind in the courtroom, but we will gladly suspend
2 that local rule in honor of this wonderful celebration. So 3 please feel free as we go about to take videos and photos as 4 you wish. After this is all over with, we can all pose for 5 photos and take any photos, if you wish.

6 Again, it is a delight having you all here. You may 7 notice, we have our sign language interpreter to my left at the 8 end of our bench. She is one of our own. She is our human 9 resources individual, a specialist, and she has a side job.
10 Interesting story: She will interpret concerts down in Denver, 11 rock concerts, country concerts, and anything of that sort.
12 And so please welcome Cherish Ross as she does the 13 interpretation for us with sign language this morning.

14 Well, it is my pleasure to introduce fresh off the 15 government shutdown Jasmine Peters. She is a Assistant United 16 States Attorney, and she is going to make a motion so that we 17 can admit our new citizens this morning. Ms. Peters speaks on 18 behalf of the Attorney General for the United States.

19 Ms. Peters, I would welcome your motion and any 20 remarks you may have.

21 MS. PETERS: Thank you, and may it please the Court.

22 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Ms. Peters.

23 MS. PETERS: My name is Jasmine Peters, and I'm here
24 today as a representative of the United States Attorney's 25 Office for the District of Wyoming and in proxy for the 1 Attorney General of the United States.

2 It is my pleasure and my privilege to introduce to the 3 Court today 19 individuals who appear in person today for 4 hearing on their petitions for naturalization as United States
5 citizens: Rosa Molina Harrell, Helen Elizabeth Stephens,
6 Robert Grunfeld, Peter William Walker, Jamie Ciel Orquina, 7 Eduardo Torres Mendez, Anatoliy Zayarko, Nguyen Van Tran -- who 8 I believe was actually admitted back in chambers -- Cesar 9 Ricardo Pena Hermosillo, Amina Dalil, Araceli Garcia Bencomo, 10 Maria Anneliese Corlis, Mark Steven Gurney, Tam Van Nguyen, 11 Maria Wolfe Chavez, Omer Jan Sabri, Yebo Deng, Ginka Susanne
12 Kubelka, Carola Cowan, Issah Mohammed.

13 These individuals have been interviewed and examined
14 under oath by a designated examiner of the United States
15 Citizenship and Immigration Services, who has also completed 16 their character and background investigations. Citizenship and 17 Immigration Services indicates that these individuals have met 18 all requirements for naturalization and are well qualified, 19 desirable candidates for United States citizenship.

20 I was born in the United States, but my father went 21 through this very process many years ago, and at the time I did 22 not understand what was going on, but I do now. I have great 23 respect and admiration for each of you and appreciate your time 24 and effort in obtaining citizenship today.

25 As a fellow United States citizen, I want to welcome

1 and congratulate all of you on this very special occasion.

2 Your Honor, at this time and on recommendation of the 3 immigration officer, I move for these petitioners to be granted
4 United States citizenship upon taking of the oath.

5 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Ms. Peters, thank you. And your 6 motion is granted. And thank you for your kind remarks this 7 morning. And welcome back.

8 MS. PETERS: Thank you.

9 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: It's true a moment ago one of 10 you -- there were 20 in total, but Mr. Nguyen Van Tran and his 11 significant other had to catch a flight to Denver, so we swore 12 them in early. But there are 19 of you remaining from 11 13 different countries, and so we are just tickled to be with you 14 and get the honor and opportunity here to swear you in here to 15 become new citizens.

16 It is that time, time to administer the oath of 17 allegiance. And on the back of your programs, for those 18 observing, you can see this lengthy oath of allegiance that's 19 been given for some 250-plus years. But I would invite my 20 colleagues to join me and each of the new citizens-to-be to 21 please stand and raise your right hands.

22 And, please, repeat after me: I hereby declare on 23 oath that I absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all 24 allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince or potentate, 25 state or sovereignty, of whom or which I have heretofore been a

1 subject or citizen; that I will support and defend the 2 Constitution and laws of the United States of America against 3 all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith 4 and allegiance to the same; that I will bear arms on behalf of 5 the United States when required by the law; that I will perform
6 noncombatant service in the armed forces of the United States 7 when required by the law; that I will perform work of national 8 importance under civil direction when required by the law; and 9 that I take this obligation freely, without any mental 10 reservation or purpose of evasion, so help me God.

11 Congratulations. You are now American citizens.

12 (Applause.)

13 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Well, I'd invite everyone else to 14 please rise and let's state the Pledge of Allegiance together 15 with our new Americans.

16 (Pledge of Allegiance.)

17 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Very well. Please be seated.

18 It is a special honor to have a message to you today 19 from the President of the United States, Donald Trump.

20 (Presidential video played.)

21 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Thank you, President Trump.

22 Well, in just a moment my colleagues and I are going 23 to step down and we are going to hand you your certificates of 24 naturalization. We also will be followed by -- I think we have 25 a representative from Congresswoman Hageman's office, and she

1 will hand you a letter from Congresswoman Hageman. Soon, I 2 think in the mail, you will hear from Senator Barrasso, and so 3 those will be delivered to you via mail. And I think on your 4 chair Senator Lummis had already provided you with some 5 correspondence. But they all wish you congratulations and 6 welcome you to Wyoming and to the United States of America as 7 new citizens.

8 So that will follow our presentation of the 9 certificates.

10 We also have a number of folks here this morning from 11 the League of Women Voters. They have some letters and maybe 12 some other stuff, patriotic items, to present to you, and we 13 will invite them following the presentation of the certificate 14 of naturalization.

15 So we will do all of that now. Hopefully you brought 16 bags to put all of this stuff in because you're about to get 17 some really interesting and neat things.

18 At this time, if I could have my colleagues join me, 19 we will present you with your certificates.

20 (Presentation of certificates.)

21 MS. PETERS: Rosa Molina Harrell, a native and former 22 inhabitant of the Philippines; Helen Elizabeth Stephens, a 23 native and former inhabitant of Canada; Robert Grunfeld, a 24 native and former inhabitant of Canada; Peter William Walker, a 25 native and former inhabitant of the United Kingdom; Jamie Ciel

1 Orquina, a native and former inhabitant of the Philippines; 2 Eduardo Torres Mendez, a native and former inhabitant of 3 Mexico; Anatoliy Zayarko, a native and former inhabitant of 4 Kyrgyzstan; Cesar Ricardo Pena Hermosillo, native and former 5 inhabitant of Morocco; Araceli Garcia Bencomo, native and 6 former inhabitant of Mexico; Maria Anneliese Corlis, native and 7 former inhabitant of Germany; Mark Steven Gurney, native and 8 former inhabitant of the United Kingdom; Tam Van Nguyen, native
9 and former inhabitant of Vietnam; Maria Wolfe Chavez, native 10 and former inhabitant of Mexico; Omer Jan Sabri, native and 11 former inhabitant of Pakistan; Yebo Deng, native and former 12 inhabitant of China; Ginka Susanne Kubelka, native and former 13 inhabitant of Germany; Carola Cowan, native and former 14 inhabitant of Germany; Issah Mohammed, native and former 15 inhabitant of Ghana.

16 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Well, thank you once again to our 17 congressional delegation. They're always here in full support 18 of these ceremonies. And also the League of Women Voters for 19 your wonderful contribution to these ceremonies for many, many 20 years.

21 Well, now is an opportunity. If you would like, we 22 have a microphone, and if you would like to say anything about 23 the process or how proud you are now to be a full-fledged 24 American citizen, or if you just wish to thank family or 25 friends or neighbors. No pressure at all, but this is my

1 favorite part of the ceremony, and I think all of us would 2 agree, to hear a little bit from each of you or some of you.

3 So I now open it up and give you the opportunity, if 4 you would like, to make any quick remarks about whatever is on 5 your mind.

6 We have the microphone. Abby has it in her hand. So 7 if you just let us know if you would like to say a couple of 8 words, the mic is yours.

9 It usually takes one person to start, and then 10 everybody starts to kind of jump in.

11 Here we go. Thank you, Ma'am.

12 CITIZEN HARRELL: Today I am very proud to become a 13 U.S. citizen. And I just want to thank my husband -- he's 14 there -- and I know he was so proud for me to be a United 15 States citizen. Thank you.

16 THE COURT: Wonderful. Thank you.

17 (Applause.)

18 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Anyone else?

19 CITIZEN DALIL: I want to thank my family and husband 20 and this experience is very emotional, very proud to be, like, 21 American citizen. It is an honor for me to be American 22 citizen. Thank you.

23 (Applause.)

24 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Well, it is an honor to have you.

25 CITIZEN CORLIS: Just a quick thank you to everyone

1 here today. Yes, I am very proud to be a U.S. citizen. And 2 especially thank you to my wife, Tina.

3 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Wonderful.

4 (Applause.)

5 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: It is hard to do it alone, so I'm 6 sure it takes everyone involved in your lives to get to this 7 point.

8 CITIZEN GRUNFELD: Thank you so much for everyone 9 here. I'm extremely proud today. This is a huge day for me.
10 I've wanted to become an American citizen ever since I was an 11 8-year-old boy living in Germany and pretending to be a cowboy, 12 so thank you.

13 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Well, you came to the right 14 state, the cowboy state.

15 (Applause.)

16 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Anyone else? Going once -- thank 17 you all for your remarks. That's just wonderful.

18 Well, I'm going to turn it over to my colleagues to 19 make any remarks of their own. We will start with Tenth 20 Circuit Court Judge Greg Phillips who is seated to my left.
21 And Judge Phillips is our lone representative on the Tenth 22 Circuit Court of Appeals here as a full-time active judge.

23 Judge Phillips.

24 JUDGE PHILLIPS: Thank you very much, Chief Judge 25 Rankin.

1 As you can see, this is one of our favorite things we 2 get to do in our job, and you can see why, because it is a 3 joyous occasion marking your achievement in reaching this 4 designation, which, as the President notes, is a huge honor and 5 difference maker in your lives for you and for yours.

6 The country is stronger today with you as citizens 7 than it was yesterday without, and we're grateful that you have 8 taken this road and welcome you as citizens, fellow citizens.
9 Thank you very much. Hope I get to visit with you after the 10 ceremony.

11 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Thank you, Judge Phillips.

12 Well, let me turn it over to Judge Alan Johnson, 13 District Court Judge here in Cheyenne.

14 Judge Johnson.

15 JUDGE JOHNSON: It is an honor to be here as the final 16 step in the long journey, your long journey to becoming a 17 citizen of the United States, has been taken. Your oath to 18 accept the duties and sacrifices that citizenship in this 19 nation may require, to be present to celebrate with you and 20 with your families and friends is a special honor, indeed.
21 This day that you have become a United States citizen should be 22 remembered with pride as a significant day in your personal 23 history.

24 Congratulations and best wishes for achieving this 25 important goal.

1 While we celebrate the achievement of America's newest 2 citizens today, we also recognized the sacrifices and service 3 of America's veterans this week as well. There are hundreds of 4 thousands of immigrant veterans who have worn our flag on their 5 sleeves and were willing to make the ultimate sacrifice for 6 this nation.

7 Today there are nearly 50,000 immigrants actively 8 serving in the six military branches: Army, Navy, Air Force, 9 Marines, Coast Guard, and Space Command.

10 Between 1907 and 2018, 745,212 immigrants achieved 11 citizenship through military service. 22 percent of America's 12 highest recognition of valor, the Medal of Honor, has been 13 awarded to immigrants, and numerous Bronze Star and Silver Star 14 Medals have been awarded to our immigrants. Immigrants have 15 brought valuable language and cultural skills to the military, 16 filling critical roles.

17 This is the day the United States must celebrate as 18 well. By taking the oath and accepting the benefits and duties 19 of citizenship, you have strengthened this nation with your 20 presence, your energy, and all that you have brought from your 21 homeland to contribute to the work and culture of the United 22 States.

23 History confirms the benefit society receives from the 24 diverse population coming here to better themselves as well as 25 their families. Those benefits may be witnessed in the work,

1 education, and services provided each day in this nation by its 2 citizens.

3 I can't help but wonder that if you, like me, may be 4 bewildered by the issues that affect our lives and 5 responsibilities as citizens. We are all bombarded with 6 information from many sources, often conflicting, often 7 questionable, sometimes seeking to take advantage of us and at 8 other times maybe helpful. How to sort through it all to 9 achieve an understanding and make decisions that we as citizens 10 should make as part of our civic duty is a challenge.

11 Famous people in history have expressed the belief 12 that the status of citizen in the United States of America is 13 very important to this nation. Perhaps Supreme Court Justice 14 Louis D. Brandeis was the first when he said: The most 15 important political office is that of the private citizen.

16 Later, another revered justice, Felix Frankfurter, who 17 was also an immigrant from Germany, once said: In democracy 18 the highest office is the office of citizen.

19 What do these remarks mean to each of us who are 20 living our lives each day and facing the challenges of putting 21 bread on the table, finding jobs and good places for our 22 families to thrive in our communities? What were Brandeis and 23 Frankfurter thinking when they made these statements about the 24 importance of being a citizen?

25 Every citizen knows that we're expected to obey the 1 laws -- local, state and federal. We all pay taxes on our 2 income, and if we're fortunate to have property, we pay taxes 3 on that too. We are told that we should vote, but many fail to 4 exercise that important duty. And we might consider running 5 for a public office or participating in the life of our 6 communities in other ways.

7 The 44th president, President Obama, in his farewell 8 speech expressed this concern: For too many of us, it has 9 become safer to retreat into our own bubbles, whether in our 10 neighborhoods or our college campuses or places of worship, or 11 especially our social media feeds, surrounded by people who 12 look like us and share the same political outlook and never 13 challenge our assumptions.

14 And increasingly, we become so secure in our bubbles 15 that we start accepting only information, whether it is true or 16 not true, that fits our opinions instead of basing our opinions 17 on the evidence that is out there.

18 The former President is concerned that if the citizen 19 does not actively reach out, educate oneself, seeking truths, 20 and speaking to others outside of one's group, our shared 21 democracy will fail and we will lose the daily battle of ideas.

22 According to author Joel K. Goldstein, Brandeis 23 believed that living in civil society imposed obligations on 24 citizens that went well beyond the basic duties to obey the 25 law, pay taxes, and vote. He thought engagement to be an

1 obligation of citizenship and knowledge an obligation and a 2 likely consequence of engagement.

3 Like Obama, Brandeis envisioned the duty of each 4 citizen to become engaged in their community as a means to 5 broaden knowledge and experiences leading to a better 6 appreciation of others and as a means for social growth.

7 It is the duty of the citizen, all of us, to use the 8 time that we are left alone by government to learn, to find 9 true facts, and to move out of our personal bubbles.

10 Remember, a President once said: For all our outward 11 differences, we, in fact, all share the same proud type, the 12 most important office in democracy is the citizen.

13 So, you see, that's what our democracy demands. It 14 needs you, not just when there's an election, not just when 15 your own narrow interest is at stake, but over the whole full 16 span of your lifetimes. If you're tired of arguing with 17 strangers on the Internet, try talking with one of them in real 18 life. If something needs fixing, then lace up your shoes and 19 do some organizing. If you're disappointed by your elected 20 officials, grab a clipboard and get some signatures and run for 21 office yourself. Show up, dive in, and stay at it.

22 There are 519,682 public offices in America and 23 countless nonprofit organizations that need your support. Just 24 consider the amazing opportunities that exist for service, for 25 engagement, for learning, as we perform our shared duties as

1 citizens.

2 Thank you, fellow citizens, for the sacrifices and 3 commitment that has brought you to this country today. May 4 this happy celebration grow in your hearts as your 5 understanding of the power and importance of your citizenship 6 grows.

7 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Thank you, Judge Johnson.

8 Well, let me now turn to Chief Magistrate Judge Scott 9 Klosterman.

10 Judge.

11 JUDGE KLOSTERMAN: Thank you, Chief Judge Rankin.

12 And welcome and good morning to all of you and to your 13 families.

14 We are honored to be here today with you as fellow 15 citizens. We recognize the tremendous sacrifices that each of 16 you have made to become United States citizens, and we 17 congratulate you on this wonderful accomplishment.

18 For many of you, I know that you've faced significant 19 challenges to become United States citizens. For some of you, 20 you've had to learn an entirely new language. You've had to 21 learn about cultural differences here in the United States.
22 And we commend your courage and commitment to make these 23 sacrifices to become United States citizens.

24 The United States is a country that is facing its own 25 challenges, but with challenge comes great opportunities. And

1 we all have the opportunity to teach and learn from one 2 another. I myself had the opportunity when I was in college to 3 study abroad, to learn a foreign language, to live with a host 4 family where I was able to learn about the culture of a 5 different country. And I hope that with each of you that you 6 will share with us and others your customs, your traditions, 7 your practices, and your ways of life because they help enrich 8 all of us in different ways and also help enrich our 9 communities and this country. And through this process I 10 believe we all become a more representative country.

11 And in thinking about some of the words that I would 12 say to you this morning, I thought about the words from the 13 United States Constitution, and specifically the Preamble to 14 the Constitution and the words that say "We the people." And 15 when you think about those words, they could not be more 16 inclusive. "We the people" means every man, every woman, and 17 every child of every gender, nation, nationality. And so we 18 congratulate you as you become citizens of the United States.

19 But as citizens, I would ask only that you love and 20 cherish this country, that you honor and protect it, and that 21 you embrace all of the possibilities that you have been given 22 as well as the responsibilities that you now have.

23 So, once again, welcome and congratulations to all of 24 you. And I look forward to visiting with you after.

25 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Thank you, Judge Klosterman.

1 Well, once again, congratulations and welcome.

2 I share a story. Our courtroom deputy here -- I 3 affectionately call her the air traffic controller of the 4 courtroom -- was in your seat when she was 11 years old. She 5 was naturalized from her home country of South Korea, and she's 6 been a speaker for us a time or two. But you all will begin to 7 blend in with all other citizens and do your duty and become 8 important components of this great country. But Ms. Bowden, as 9 you can see, has done just that, and I expect the same from 10 each of you as you go forward.

11 It really is a special honor for each of us to welcome 12 each of you as fellow citizens. Today is a significant day, 13 not just for each of you, but, really, for this great country.

14 This country, now your country, was founded on the 15 customs and traditions of so many, and today each of you add to 16 that rich heritage and history. You're now a part of the great 17 American story.

18 While today is a day of celebration for you, your 19 loved ones, friends, colleagues, and neighbors, we cannot 20 appreciate the long journey many of you have taken to get you 21 to this day. In fact, one gentleman told me it took nine years 22 when we were standing in line handing out the certificates.
23 For some it may have even been longer than that.

24 But for some of you, you left family and friends for 25 the sole purpose of making a better life for yourselves and

1 your family members. And no doubt that hasn't been easy. Each 2 of you has brought with you stories of courage and resilience.
3 Some of those stories we got to hear today.

4 You've sacrificed; you've worked; you've studied;
5 you've waited, and no one can take lightly your place as a full 6 and equal member of this nation. Together all of you bring to 7 us the diversity and the differences that make this country so 8 unique. We are a nation of immigrants. Our first president, 9 George Washington, said about welcoming people to America, 10 quote: America is open to receive not only the opulent and 11 respected stranger, but the oppressed and persecuted of all 12 nations and religions whom we shall welcome to a participation 13 of all our rights and privileges, close quote.

14 That's what we do, and that's what we've done
15 throughout the history of America.

16 So together you are not just becoming a citizen 17 through a formal legal process, you are helping to shape who we 18 are. You are helping to shape who we will be. Through your 19 voice, your actions, your talents, and your values, you will 20 help to sustain and mold this country and make it what it is 21 all about: freedom, democracy, equality, and perseverance.

22 As a new citizen, you do have, of course, 23 responsibilities, not just to your own family, but to your 24 fellow citizen. These responsibilities include your right to 25 vote, not carelessly, but informed; your right to speak, not

1 hurtfully, but productively; and your right to contribute to 2 help your fellow neighbors.

3 Together with your new responsibilities, with all your 4 dreams, we can build on this great story of country and 5 freedom. So, as we welcome you, we say thank you: Thank you 6 for who you are, who you will become, and thank you for sharing 7 in this great American story.

8 With that, I'm pleased to once again introduce the 9 Centralaires accompanied by Dawn West to lead us in God Bless 10 America.

11 (God Bless America performed.)

12 (Applause.)

13 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: Thank you once again to Central 14 High School for all of their contributions.

15 Again thank you to the Wyoming Congressional 16 Delegation and the League of Women Voters and everyone that 17 participates and contributes to this wonderful, special
18 ceremony.

19 Mostly thank you to the new citizens. We welcome you 20 once again, and we look forward to meeting you and greeting you 21 when we recess.

22 I think that concludes the ceremony.

23 Anything else from my colleagues?

24 All right. If there's nothing further, we will stand 25 in recess.

1 (Discussion held.)

2 CHIEF JUDGE RANKIN: My apologies. The most important 3 part of this ceremony: There are refreshments. Thank you to 4 the Daughters of the American Revolution. I believe it is out 5 in the hall -- or in the jury assembly room across the hall, so 6 please join us there as well. Thank you.

7 (Proceedings concluded 10:50 a.m., November 13, 2025.)
